

WHOLE WAY HOUSE
RECONNECT. REBUILD. RECENTER

Jenny Konkin is the President and Co-Founder of Whole Way House Society, a registered charity based in the DTES of Vancouver that provides community building programs and tenant support services to vulnerable seniors, veterans and residents who have experienced or are at risk of homelessness. These onsite support services help seniors stabilize into housing and help to build a home.

Through the COVID-19 Pandemic, Whole Way House successfully started a meal delivery program to support low income seniors and vulnerable residents to safely self-isolate in their homes. They served over 260,000 meals to 600 seniors in 19 buildings across 6 different non-profit housing societies. The meal delivery program became more than a meal, but a true wellness check-in and source of connection for the recipients.

Jenny was awarded Business in Vancouver's Top 40 Under 40 2018 list and The Capilano University Alumni Award of Excellence. She serves on the Board of Directors for Whole Way House Society, The Veterans Memorial Housing Society, The Seniors Advisory Committee to the City of Vancouver, and co-chairs the Business by the Book committee. She also serves on the BC Housing Supportive Housing Leadership Forum Steering Committee.

Jenny believes that every person has a story and when they are treated with love, dignity and respect, they are able to know their true value and build a life with purpose. She has travelled to over 35 countries, she loves to play with her two dogs, Jake and Sophie-May and is always exploring her beautiful city of Vancouver.
